A MAN'S JOB

It's a man's job to be cheerful
In the face of grief and care;
Any weeping can be fearful
And a victim of despair.
But it takes a man to swallow
All the bitter in the cup,
And to live for what may follow,
Without ever giving up.

It's a man's job to be kindly,
It's a man's job to be true;
None can shut his eyes and blindly
Try to journey through life through
And not see the wrong about him
Or the hazards in his way.
There are times when fate will flout
him
And his feet will go astray.

Not in fools and craven creatures
Are the worthy virtues found,
Not on blank and lifeless features
Do the cheerful smiles abound;
He who to his best is living
And for truth and honor stands,
And is cheerful in his giving,
Has a man's job on his hands.

To be kind and thoughtful ever,
To be strong in times of need,
To put all your best endeavor
In an effort to succeed,
And to fail and keep on trying,
And not lose your cheerful ways,
Is a job, there's no denying,
For a real man, nowadays.

Daily Market Report

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Last week's final rally in prominent industrials, especially steels and equipments, was not resumed at the dull and uncertain opening of today's stock market, further heaviness among the motor issues, acting as a deterrent. Initial advances of a point in Crucible Steel and Worthington Pump were offset by a 2 1/2 point decline in General Motors. Moderate reactions were the rule in oils, shippings, coppers and tobaccos. Most gains were forfeited within the first half hour.

The market became more irregular in the early dealings, but hardened at the first indications of support. Improvement was especially perceptible among stocks where the shorts recently were most active. Other issues, in which prospective favorable dividend action is contemplated, also strengthened. Gains were temporarily shaded on publication of foreign exchange quotations, showing fresh weakness in that quarter, but losses were largely recovered at noon. Call money opened at 7 per cent, an easy rate, considering last week's loss of clearing house reserves.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Cold wave forecasts together with a sharp upturn in hog values, had a strengthening effect on the corn market today. The January delivery was the most sensitive buying and was carried to a new top price for the season. Complaints of car scarcity continued. Opening quotations, which varied from the same as Saturday's finish to 1 1/2c higher, with May $1.36 to 1.36 1/2c, and July $1.33 1/2 to 1.33 3/4c, were followed by moderate reaction.

Although dull, oats held firm with corn. After opening unchanged to 1/4c higher, including May at 83 1/2c, the market held at about the initial figures.

Provisions at first reflected the strength of hogs and grain. Later, a sag took place as a result of scattered selling.

The Fault is Not in Your Carburetor

WHEN YOUR CAR DOES NOT START PROMPTLY IN THE MORNING poor gasoline is the reason.

The intermountain country has been flooded the last year with a low grade of gasoline, the poorest fuel oil ever placed on local markets, and this, combined with the unusual cold weather, has caused car owners distressful carburetor trouble this year.

A severe fight is now being waged in the courts to remedy this situation so the motorist may be protected from poor gasoline. So, please remember this when you are annoyed by carburetor trouble, and remember it is not the fault of the car, but of the fuel it has to use. HUDSON ESSEX CHEVROLET

TO SHOOT AT MOON

Prof. Robert H. Goddard of Clark University is the inventor of a multiple high-charge efficiency rocket which, he says, if carried to its extreme, would be capable of reaching to the moon, 220,000 miles away, in little more than four days. He says that each rocket will carry photographic powder which will blaze forth when the moon is hit, thereby letting the judges know that his rocket has done the trick.

Tells of the Good Balmwort Tablets Worked.

Mr. W. E. Goff, connected with the D. L. & W. R. R., Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "For two years I had suffered from disorders of the kidneys and bladder. Distressing pain in the back and hips, depression and extreme nervousness. Also a frequent desire to urinate, many nights every hour or so. I would have to arise, as the pressure in bladder region was unbearable. My ankles swelled and my skin became dry and harsh. After using Balmwort Tablets I noticed relief and continued taking until now I feel wholly relieved of pain and suffering. I am glad to recommend Balmwort Tablets as a most reliable beneficial medicine."

The Blackburn Products Co., Dayton, Ohio, guarantee every package satisfactory, or money back, so why not stop your pain and distress with Balmwort Tablets. Sold by leading druggists. Price, $1.00—Advertisement.

Rippling Rhymes

By WALT MASON.

THRIFTLESS.
There's an ancient weary fellow working for me, doing chores, and his life is sad and yellow, and his days and nights are boring. He is crippled and rheumatic, and he plies a feeble hoof, and his home is in an attic where the rain falls through the roof. I could weep when I behold him; he'll be hopeless in his woes, till the boyhood sod entombs him, and he has his long repose. And his youth was gay and zippy, and he wildly spent his wage, while the wise youth wrought and builded for the years of wintry age. Once this old man was a master in the trade that he had learned, but he blew his money faster than the ding-donged stuff was earned; and he made no wise provision for the days of want and dread; life was sunny and elysian—why should people look ahead? Why put down the shining shillings in a quantity of brine, when a sport could make a killing in the haunts of cars and wine? Why consider a tomorrow when today is good enough? Going broke, a sport could borrow on his watch and kindred stuff. Now around my house he tinkers, and no hope is in his soul, and he carries out the clinkers, and he carries in the coal. Nothing human can enchant him, he is dead to every thrill, and some day the town will plant him in the boyhood on the hill.

THE BRANE
The brane is the part of the body you think with, and the bigger the brane is the more you think, and the smaller it is the more you think you think. The easiest way to tell if a person has a big brane is to look how high their forehead is, men with bald heads not counting.

There are many expressions about branes meaning a person hasn't got much sense, some of them being as follows:

1. Haven't you any branes? Meaning Haven't you any brains?

2. Hay, your branes must be in your feet. Meaning there don't seem to be any in your head.

3. You haven't got the branes you were born with. Meaning when you were born you had more branes than what you got now.

Some branes are better at some things than what they are at others. A person might be the best one in the class at arithmetic, but is you asked him the boundary of Asia he might not even answer. This proves it takes all sorts of people to make a world.

Boys think they have more branes than girls, and vice versa. Boys say girls have long hair instead of having more branes, but girls say they have long hair besides having more branes. Both may be true in some cases.

Animals have branes but they don't know the reason. Animals think because they can't help it and not because they want to and know it's a fine thing to do. Horses and dogs have the most branes of all the animals, and cats and insects have the least.

A poor man can have as much branes as a rich man, being a little consolation but not enough.

We are asked: "What would the I. W. do to a member who was caught doing the right thing?" He wouldn't be a member, then. Next?

Well, Attorney General Palmer is it again in the game of hide and seek with the profiteers. (Or should we have said is still it?)

The modern definition of a ghoul is the lawyer who nibbles the bones of the late departed J. B. Corn.

NEW YORK—Miss Lillian Jeddicka, student nurse at the Flower Hospital, gave her blood for transfusion when prices for blood jumped to $55, an increase of $39 over the usual price. The hospital does a great deal of free work and was unable to meet the "high price of blood." Her voluntary action caused other nurses to follow the example and the blood profiteers were left without a market.
